Targeted Prevention for Maximum Protection

With Continuous Threat Exposure Management, we identify vulnerabilities early, prioritize them based on risk, and sustainably reduce your attack surface.

How CTEM advances your IT security:

- ✔ Identify, assess, and remediate vulnerabilities
- ✔ Greater visibility – smaller attack surface
- ✔ Actionable measures instead of just alerts
- ✔ Risks in business context, not isolated data

By your side – as a trusted partner

Imagine facing a mountain of alerts – with no one to tell you what truly matters. That’s where we come in: with CTEM, you get more than automated scans – you get dedicated experts who speak your language, in both German and English.

We support you every step of the way:

- ✔ Continuous vulnerability scanning – locally, across the network, and externally
- ✔ Prioritized recommendations you can act on immediately
- ✔ Customized reports and dashboards tailored to your business
- ✔ Remediation support from our experts

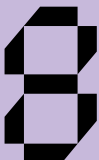

Understand risks – instead of blindly trusting numbers

You may know the situation: A CVSS score is rated “high” or “critical”—but is it truly relevant to your business? With CTEM, we go deeper. We assess vulnerabilities not in isolation, but in the context of your processes—so you can focus only on what really matters.

Our methodology makes this tangible:

- ✔ Inventory scans for full visibility across all systems
- ✔ Joint identification of your business-critical assets
- ✔ Identification of missing patches, misconfigurations, and credential leaks
- ✔ Risk assessment based on real exploitability, impact, and attack paths

Stay one step ahead of cybercriminals.

With our CTEM, your cybersecurity strategy becomes holistic and highly effective – because everything starts with prevention.
